Mme. Roche, the accomplished chromatic harpiste, will be one of the entertaining features of the Mozarts.

Below we give a list of the officers of the Hillsboro Choir Co., for the coming year: O. N. Sams, Pres.; D. J. Flynn, V. Pres.; J. M. Hughey, Sec. and Treas.; O. N. Sams, Dr. J. W. Hughey, Carl Utman, D. J. Flynn, J. M. Hughey, Directors.

The Hillsboro Steam Laundry has been putting in a new boiler and smoke stack during the past few days. This occasioned some delay with the work of the laundry, but everything is humming now, with ample power to keep up the move.

At every occasion Foraker looms up. He is right, and courageously right on all the public issues. The people know his faith and the reason for it. There is no man nearer to the hearts of the American people to-day than Senator Joseph Benson Foraker.

Mrs. Carolina Stricher died Thursday night, of consumption, at her room, corner South and West streets. The funeral services took place Sunday afternoon, Rev. D. C. Wright, of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, officiating. The interment took place in the Hillsboro Cemetery.

Frank Collins, Esq., has just returned from his trip through the southwest. He reports lovely weather in Texas with flowers in bloom and garden truck hustling. He hasn't much use for Arkansas, but says Texas is a grand State with a great future. He enjoyed his trip very much, and yet, he's glad to get back to old Hillsboro. "There's no place like home."

Money to Loan—By S. H. Mackay.

The hero weather of last week went a great way toward keeping the temperature of this season down to the winter average.

Rev. Heber D. Ketcham is in Cincinnati, attending the forty-fourth annual reunion of the Masonic fraternity of the Scottish Rite.

The person who took the wrong umbrella from the College, Monday evening, will please return it to the College, and get his own.

The Congressional Committee for this district will meet in Cincinnati today to fix the time and place of holding the Congressional Convention.

Recital.

At the musical reception Monday evening in the College Chapel, by Misses Shawe and Smith, musicians, and Miss Bowles, elocutionist, the programme given below was delightfully rendered. These young ladies are all accomplished artists, and the Hillsboro College is fortunate in having their efficient services in its educational work:

Bohm-Walts and Finales from Birthday Music
Misses Smith and Shawe.
Nevins—"In a Bower," b "Merry, Merry Lark"
Miss Laura E. Shawe.
Fred Emerson Brooks.....Old Ace
Miss Jane Eleanor Bowles.
A. Bavin, b. Paderewski.....
.....a Op. 190, Minuet; b Op. 14, Minuet
Miss Smith.
Chaminade—"Rosamonde," b "Love's Captive"
Miss Laura E. Shawe.
Mark Twain.....A Telephone Conversation
Miss Jane Eleanor Bowles.
Ensemble..... a, Greig, b, Pirani, a, Minuetto, from
Op. 7, b Gavotte.....
Eugene Field.....a, "Little Boy Blue," b,
"Boat's Things,"
Miss Jane Eleanor Bowles.

Mozart Symphony Club.
Since making their announcement, the Entertainment committee has received a letter from the Club, stating that they have added to their number Miss Louise Sumner, a superb contralto singer. Don't fail to hear them Friday night.

Next Sunday at 10:30 Rev. Heber D. Ketcham will preach at the Methodist Church, on the topic John Wesley. At 7 p. m. Dr. McSurely. The Tuesday evening meetings of the Epworth League, that proved so interesting and profitable, will be resumed next week.

McClain Boyer, of East Monroe, pleaded guilty to the charge of burglary, and was given the lightest possible sentence—one year in the Penitentiary. There is another charge against him, of forgery. He was married a few weeks ago, and it is said, forged an order for his wedding clothes.

Charlie Shade is circulating a paper for the organization of a Protective Association against crime, the principle feature of which will be the use of a brace of blood hounds which are to be brought here from Texas. Those who invest $1 in the bloodhounds are to have the benefit of their services free of cost.

A tenant house on Charlie McConaughy's farm, near New Market, was totally destroyed by fire, Saturday. It was occupied by Claiborn Emery, who with his family had gone to a neighbors shortly before the fire broke out. Mr. Emery lost all his household goods. The loss on the house was about $300, uninsured.

The report that John Hamill was assaulted and robbed, Thursday, in the alley in the rear of his brother's residence, lacks confirmation. Hamill had been drinking pretty freely, and fell, striking the fence with his shoulder. There were no indications of sand bagging or robbery. Mr. Hamill wears a wooden leg, and after falling, was unable in his condition to rise again, until help arrived. The robbers were probably a fancy of his whirling brain.

We have spoken before of a wonderful corn originated by Capt. J. H. Anderson and known as James Anderson's Prolific. Last week a committee of several reliable gentlemen counted the number of grains on eight ears, which had been grown from one grain of this corn. The result was 5,111 grains. Capt. Anderson has been several years bringing this corn to its present state of perfection. It is a splendid sweet corn for table use.

Miss Virginia Pearce very handsomely entertained the H. L. T. C. Club, Saturday evening. At 6:45 a "Martha Washington" tea was served, after which the young folks had a sociable time. Those in attendance were Messrs. Josie and Nellie Keech, Katherine Hickie, Cora Work, Annie Amen, Clara Lemon, Lena Harsha, Fannie Detwiler, and Messrs. Joe Perin, Howard Oyler, Geo. Shack, Roy Mackery, Will Granger, Claire Hughey, Philip Berg and Louie Feibel. It was a happy social event and was enjoyed by all.

Miss Nellie McCabe, the bright and amiable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McCabe, died Saturday morning of consumption, from which she had long been a patient sufferer. She was about twenty-one years of age, a very worthy and companionable young lady. In a family of nine children, all the others had been carried off by the same dread disease, before she was taken. The funeral took place Monday morning from St. Mary's Catholic Church, Rev. Father Walsh officiating. The hearts of this community go out in sincere sympathy toward the father and mother in their bitter and lonely sorrow.

The Farmers' Institute was a complete success. One encouraging feature was the conspicuous absence of political malcontents, who too often seek these places to secure an opportunity for annoying. These institutes, when run on the line of agricultural instruction are so important and useful as similar gatherings along the line of other interests. But the church or society of any kind that opens the doors of discussion to political ranters of any party, will never do any good. The Farmers' Institute here last week was free from this trouble. It was decidedly interesting and instructive, throughout. There is no farmer, however well informed, but would have found it profitable to be there.

Ladies' Aid Society.

We were precluded last week, by the early hour of publication, from giving more complete reports of the proceedings of the S. of V. and L. A. S.

The report of the Division President, L. A. S., showed a very gratifying progress in interest and in the numerical and financial strength of the order.

Before adjourning the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved—That the officers of this Division have proved their faithfulness, by the successful manner in which they have brought our Division through another administration, be it.

Resolved, That the hearty thanks of the members of this Division be extended to them.

Resolved—That the local Camp has shown us every favor and kindness that a host could extend a guest, therefore, be it Resolved, That we extend to Carson Camp our grateful appreciation of their kindness.

Resolved, That our thanks be extended to J. M. Barrere Post and their Relief Corps for the hospitable manner in which they have welcomed us to their city.

Resolved, That, to the citizens of Hillsboro we extend our most hearty thanks. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the organizations herein mentioned, a copy be sent to the press, and that they also be spread on the minutes of this convention.

MINNIE PARKER, KATE G. RAYNOR, ELLA H. LYONS.

The following officers were elected: Division President, Lillie B. K. Herbst, Canton; Division Vice President, Mrs. Sallie Caldwell, Cincinnati; Division Treasurer, Mamie E. Herbst, Canton; Council, Josephine Belgwitz, Columbus; Effie Haynes, Akron; Annie Fielding, Columbus; Chaplain, Mary Grace, Cincinnati; Chief of Staff, Iona Von Huber, Inspector, Minnie Parker, Columbus; Mustering and Installing Officer, Mary Simpson, Lockland; Division Secretary, Alice S. Fickes, Canton; Judges Advocate, Don C. Cable, Nelsonville.

The officers were installed by Kate G. Raynor, of Toledo.

Convention adjourned to meet in Mason, in 1897.

The Rules Must Be Observed.
The superintendent of the Ohio division of the B. & O. S.-W., Mr. Chas. H. Howard, has sent out an iron clad circular, approved by General Superintendent I. G. Rawn, to all employees in the train service.

In view of the recent accidents, with their appalling loss of life and property, the company will, the circular states, hereafter discharge any employee found guilty of breaking any of the rules governing the movements of trains. These rules are the result of years of study and thought, and were made to be observed. An employee who knows of any failure on the part of others to observe them, and fails to report such failure, will be held equally responsible.

Probate Court.
Amy R. Renoe, admrx of the estate of Sarah E. Weaver, filed inventory and appraisalment.

The will of Catharine Smithson filed. The will of Benjamin Southard filed. M. Richards and Wm. Renoe, admrs of V. W. Renoe, filed inventory and appraisalment and sale bill of personal property.

The will of Dudley K. Johnson filed. Vasco V. Smith appointed gdn of Edith Smith, bond $2,000.

H. D. Davis, assignee of Frederick Schermer, authorized to sell personal property at private sale.

Opera House To-Night.
To-night is the night to see Fisher's comedians in that well known and funny farce comedy, "A Cold Day."

Don't miss it. Those who have never seen "A Cold Day" should be on hand to-night. More good fun in it than any farce comedy on the road. Two and a half hours of laughter.

Abe, Baby and Jake will be there, and don't forget the chicken sandwich.

Common Pleas.
Only one new case was filed last week—Samuel Elder & Co. vs. I. McD. Smith and John R. Horst, administrators of O. S. Price.

There was no Court Wednesday and Friday, as the room had been given up to the Farmers' Institute.

The case of Henry Roads vs. H. H. Fenner has been under consideration since Friday morning, and went to the jury yesterday afternoon. A verdict was returned in favor of Fenner for $9.

Assignee's Sale.
H. D. Davis, assignee, will offer at public auction, at the Schermer Livery Stable, on Saturday, March 7, at 10:00 a. m., all the horses, buggies, carriages, wagons, sleighs, harnesses, saddles, etc., belonging to said livery stable. Also, bar-room furniture and fixtures, and continental safe. These articles and many others will be offered. Terms cash.

FEIBEL BROS

Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan's Home.

In 1861, when our country called on her noble sons to protect the Union which had been perfected by the heroes of the Revolution, promises were made to the men of Ohio that their children should be cared for, if they did not return from the war.

Were these promises kept? If any are in doubt about the matter, make a visit to the Home, at Xenia, and you will be convinced, without a doubt, that Ohio has and is still keeping the promises made years ago to the men who wore the blue.

Boys and girls, who were pupils in the Home, may be found all over the United States, filling places of trust and honor.

They owe their success in life to the training and instruction which they received at the Home. Some of Ohio's best citizens are ex-pupils of this institution at Xenia. In the State House may be found ex-pupils from sixteen to thirty-five years of age.

Speaker Sleeper's stenography work is done by a pupil of the home, who will graduate this year from the High School and the school of Phonography.

The Lieut. Governor has near him at all times, a bright lad in knee pants, who is also a member of the class of '96.

A third one, who is also a member of the same class, assists in the stenography work of the Senate.

Supt. Lanning's private Secretary is a post graduate, not yet fifteen years old. The extra work which he is doing will enable him to enter the freshman year in most any of our colleges.

Examine the catalogues of the different colleges in our State, and on many of the rolls of students may be found names of ex-pupils, who are working their way upward slowly but surely.

Delaware, Marietta, Gambier, Granville, Hudson Academy and Muskingum are doing a good part by the Soldiers' Orphan's Home.

The Supt. of Schools of the Home has been untiring in his efforts for the pupil and ex-pupil.

The ex-pupil is found in the Schools, in the cottages and in the work shops.

The buying for the Home, which supports nine hundred children and about one hundred and sixty employees is done by an ex pupil, Olin C. Baker, who works at Highland's political shrine.

A Son of a Veteran has charge of the hospital, Dr. A. C. Messenger, of Jackson county.

Capt. Lanning and wife are in charge of the Home. All that can be done for the welfare of the children is done by these good people.

The employees come from all parts of the State. In the workshops, in the cottages and in the schools the pupils are fitted to begin life's work. Ohio is great in many things, but the noble work of preparing her youth for lives of usefulness is where she excels.
